"Train a boy to be brave and to speak the truth, and you have done your best by him; the rest he must do for himself."

—Lew Wallace.

FIRST WE MAKE OUR WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1947 of Scottland Community High School, do herewith make, declare, and publish our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

We, the Senior Class of 1947, will to the different classes the following:

To the freshmen we will our general knowledge, provided they will use it.

To the sophomores we will our silly giggles and foolish pranks.

To the juniors we will our old text books, provided they study harder than we did.

ARTICLE II

We will to our teachers the following:

To Mrs. McCool we will our cheery outlook on life.

To Mrs. Benson we will our good behavior .

To Miss Throckmartin we will our good manners at the table.

To Mrs. Bruner we will our musical talent provided she will cultivate it.

To Mr. Heggerty we will our quiet assemblies and study halls.

To Mr. Benson we will our demerits.

To Mr. Emmons we will our ability to get along with people.

ARTICLE III

We express our individual wills in this way:

I, Florence Cook, will my singing ability to Bill Hunt, provided he will open his mouth wide and let the tones roll out.

I, Louise Carpenter, will my gentle manners and quiet disposition to Donald Low.

I, Naomi June Fulton, will my nickname "Blow" to Patty Yonce, provided she will try to keep its name as I have.

I, Mary E. Fulton, will my mild temper to Eugene Giordano, provided he will do his best to control it.

I, Bill Hutson, will my ability to tell tall tales and to make everyone believe them to Jack Eslinger, provided that he doesn't tell them too often.

I, Richard Ingram, will my uncontrollable hair to Dean Bowman, provided he will use a special hair tonic for it at all times.

I, Roscoe Howe, will my love for Shakespeare's stories to Ruth Alice Scott, provided she doesn't read any of them around me.

I, Marian Parker, will my class ring to Dick Haws, provided he doesn't wear it at Dana.

I, Marilyn Parker, will my mischievousness in study hall to Norma Samford.

I, Barbara Scott, will my long hair to Gleethal Scott, provided she doesn't cut it.

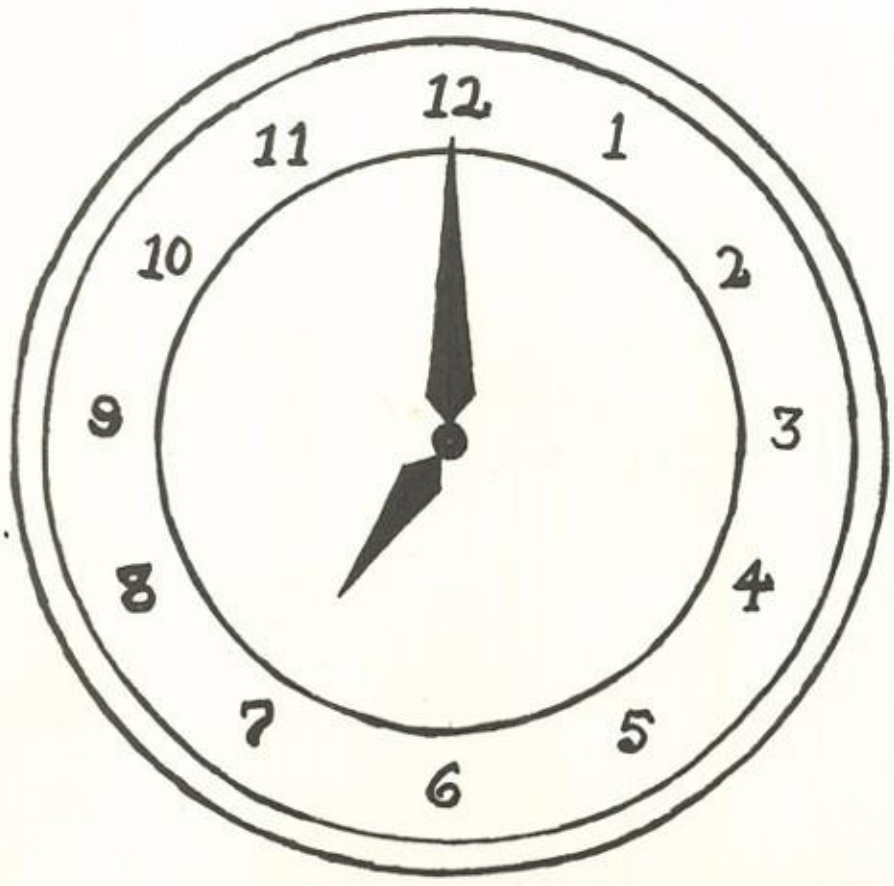
I, Helen Holley, will my former boyfriends to Wilma Vaught, provided she is willing to accept them.

I, Joan Listner, will my sweet disposition to Dorothy Groves, provided she doesn't use it on the boys.

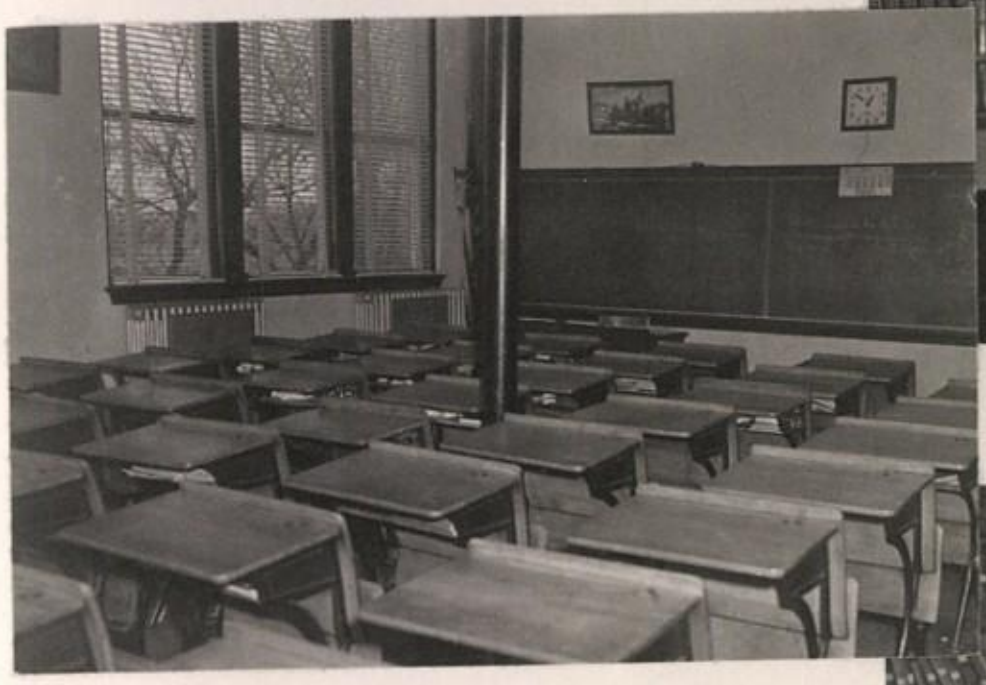
Signed:

Marilyn Parker.
Richard Ingram.
Kilroy.

WHEN ALL THRU THE HALLS . .



NOT A CREATURE WAS STIRRING . .



NOT EVEN A MOUSE . . . .

Macbeth:

—To-morrow, and to-morrow, and
to-morrow,
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day
To the last syllable of recorded time;
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death. Out, out, brief candle!
Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more. It is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing.—

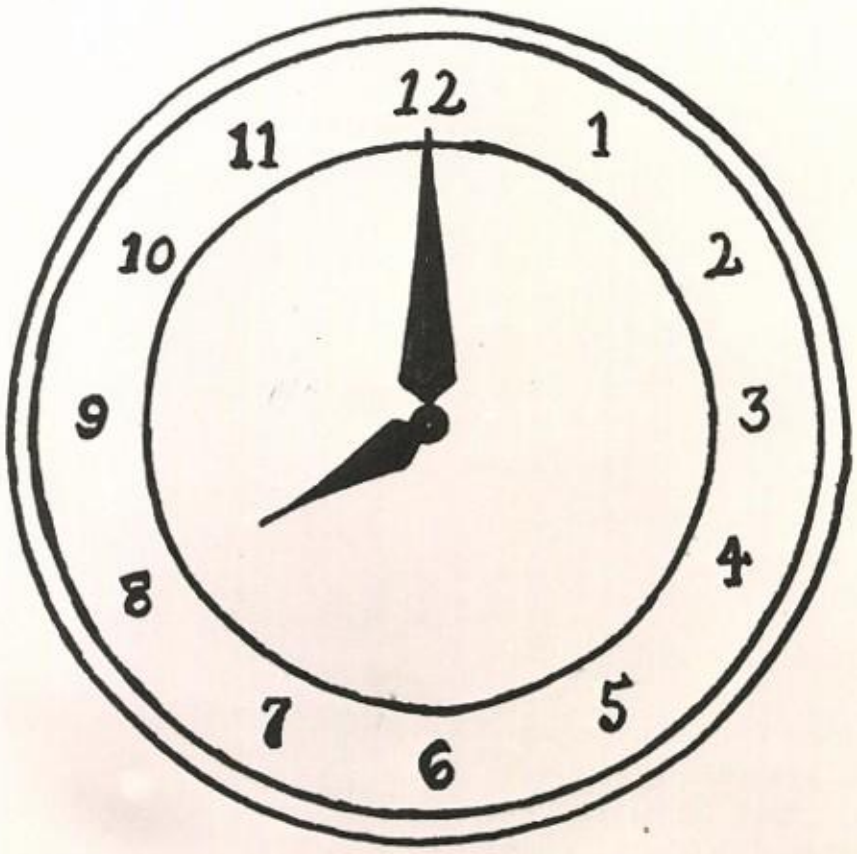
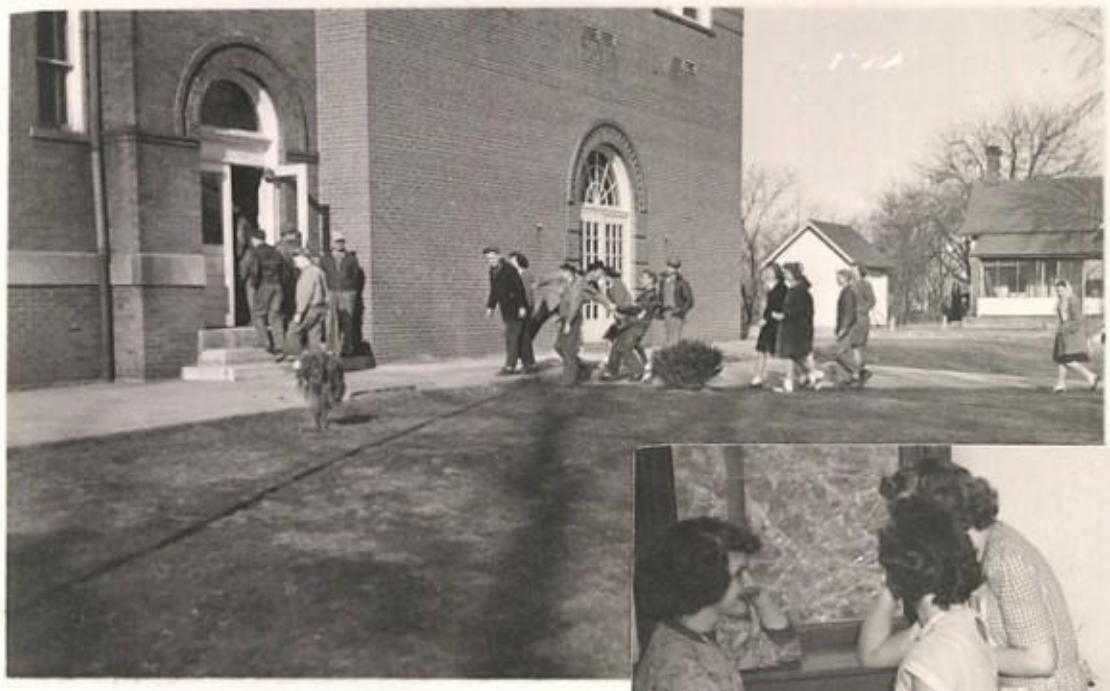
MR. CRAIG OPENS THE DOORS . .





AND WE MEET THE PRINCIPAL

Mr. Benson is a man whose inspiration, guidance, and counsel are sending us from school better equipped to face the problems of life and to make the most of our talents. We have found Mr. Benson always ready to help us, friendly, patient, and human.

"A man he seemed of cheerful yesterdays
And confident tomorrows."

—Wordsworth.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

The day was cold and dark and dreary without, but within the fire burned merrily upon my hearth. I settled myself comfortably in my easy chair before the fire. The book which I had been reading earlier in the afternoon lay untouched upon the floor. At my age it is easier to indulge in reminiscences before a fire than to read, or sew, or knit.

The little flames burned brighter and brighter; they seemed to be trying to warm the whole earth. Suddenly I opened my eyes very wide, and I rubbed them again—and again—and again. Slowly there emerged from the fire a quaint little figure, in brown, with a comical hat and silver bells.

He had a quick, sprightly walk, and in the twinkling of an eye he stood before me, impertinently twirling a tiny, gold-headed cane.

Before I could bat an eyelash, he smiled and said, "A penny for your thoughts, Miss Mary."

No one has called me "Miss Mary" in forty years. I gulped—I stammered—I lost my voice.

"Come, come," he said. "What are you daydreaming about?'

"Well," I said, after recovering my voice which had taken refuge in my esophagus, "I was thinking about Scottland. The Class of 1947—their ambitions—their hopes—their dreams. But who are you?"

"I am a genie and I have magic power. This Class of 1947—would you like to see them?"

"I have no money," I replied sadly, "I was a schoolteacher, you know."

The genie smiled. "We don't need money because I have this magic cane."

Suddenly I felt myself gliding out of the window. In no time at all we were in a thriving town that had wide paved streets and an airport south of the railroad tracks. A large white colonial house attracted the genie. We went inside. A young girl with brown hair and blue eyes was watching a football game.—Television, of course. A tall youth was boxing with a small, pudgy boy, evidently his brother. A woman entered the room—she looked familiar in spite of her two hundred pounds and gray hair. Time had been kind to her and she looked happy.

The genie whispered. "Mary Elizabeth, you remember. She has several children. Six, not including the twins. Her husband will be retired from the Navy next month. The name is Holler."

In a few minutes we slipped out of the house, and went down Main Street until we came to a big department store. The whole front of the store was glass and in huge red neon letters above the door were these words: Ingram and Son. I saw Dick in the back of the store, with his son, who smiled and said, "It takes a lot of dough these days, dad. It was different when you were young. Now this little Holler girl—."

The genie smiled. "Did you know that Dick married Naomi June Fulton a year after they graduated from high school? But Naomi June always wanted to be a ballet dancer, so she studied dancing in New York City and London. But she finally came back home and she and Dick seem very happy now. They have one son—a nice boy, but a spendthrift."

Then we left the store and glided out into the country. We stopped at a large stone ranch house, evidently called the R & M Ranch. On one side of the house there was an airplane field and on the other side there was a race track.

The genie pointed to the ranch house with his gold-headed cane. "Roscoe and Marilyn live here. After Marilyn graduated from the University of Oklahoma, she met Roscoe at a dinner party in Kansas City, Kansas. Their high school romance was renewed and after a whirlwind courtship they were married in Topeka and spent their honeymoon in Yellowstone Park. Then they went to Mexico where Roscoe struck oil and became a multimillionaire. They now spend most of their time developing the R & M Ranch."

We left the lovely ranch house and glided on for some time. "We are approaching Chicago," said the genie.

Near the Sherman Hotel I noticed an unusual hat shop, called "Helen Holley's Hat Shoppe." Models in gorgeous hats with long trailing ostrich plumes were parading up and down in front of the shop.

The genie said, "That idea of Miss Holley's made her a cool million last year. She has visited every country in the world to get ideas for her hats and her models."

"Is she married?" I asked.

"Mercy, yes, twice, in fact. First to a no-account count in Paris and then to an eminent Chicagoan. Editor of Punch and Judy. But let us go on."

In a few seconds we were entering a large zoo. A portly gentleman, dressed in a gray striped suit, seemed to be in charge. "That is Bill Hutson," said the genie, "the manager of this zoo and the world's greatest living authority on raising pandas and kangaroos in captivity. In fact, the records show he has never lost a case."

"And is he married?" I asked.

"Sure. He married Joan Listner. After being disappointed three times in love affairs, she came to Chicago to work in a beauty shop. She met Bill on an escalator in Marshall Field's store. Bill, who had been turned down twice by Marian Parker, had decided to be a bachelor, but fate changed his decision. He and Joan were married. in "The Little Church Around the Corner."

"What happened to Marian?" I asked.

"She is an actress in New York City. She is a second Helen Hayes on the stage and in the movies too. She is now married to Dick Haws, the movie magnate in Hollywood."

"Where is Flossie?" I asked.

"You mean Florence Nightingale Cook Smythe. Oh, she is with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She has visited every city in the world, and at one time she sang before the King of Siam. He was charmed with her singing. Probably you wouldn't recognize her now. Her hair is snow white and she weighs only ninety-two pounds. She looks as if a breath of wind would take her out of this world. . . . . But would you like to see Louise Carpenter?"

"Certainly," I replied. Within a few minutes we were approaching the city limits of Shanghai. We entered a large office building where we soon found Louise at work with a group of Chinese stenographers. The genie explained that Louise was president of the American Oil in China Company. She had become the world's most successful business woman.

"Dr. Scott has also become famous," said the genie. He added that after Barbara's graduation from medical school she married a Texas cowboy. Shortly after their marriage her husband ran away with a toe-dancer from Tallahassee. Although Barbara's heart was broken, she decided to advance in her chosen field of medicine. Today she is a recognized authority in pediatrics."

A little later I found myself sitting in front of my own hearth. The fire was no longer burning brightly. In fact, there was no fire at all.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF . . . . . .

Marilyn—stood quietly by the stairway door.
Marian—wouldn't see an o'possum occasionally.
Mary E.—didn't lose her temper.
Helen—made up her mind definitely about certain boys.
Barbara—would take good care of her sister's Buick.
Louise—became loud and boisterous in the assembly.
Joan L.—did not give any demerits.
Dick I.—expressed his appreciation for Shakespeare, especially Macbeth
Roscoe—quit flirting with the gals.
Bili H.—couldn't talk, sleep in class, and eat.
Naomi—wasn't suspicious of everything she hears.
Florence—didn't go to Dana.
Miss Throckmartin—didn't fall down occasionally.
Mr. Heggerty—would urge all athletes to attend all parties.
Mrs. McCool—didn't like Shakespeare and Tennyson.
Mrs. Benson—lost her temper.
Mr. Benson—blew up the Chemistry room.
Mr. Emmons—didn't scold Hobart.
Mrs. Bruner—had all her music students in class at one time.
Mr. Bruner—lost his bass viol.
Mr. Craig—should burn the schoolhouse down some cold morning.

HOW MANY TIMES HAVE YOU HEARD THIS?

Helen Holley ..... "That's tough."
Bill Hutson ..... "I don't know."
Mary Fulton ..... "This is the dullest place."

Marian Parker ..... "Oh, really!"
Louise Carpenter ..... "Heck, I don't know."
Richard Ingram ..... "Was that nice?"
Mr. Heggerty ..... "Really now I'm serious."
Joan Eveland ..... "You big liar."
Mrs. Benson ..... "Gerald, come here."
Gleethal Scott ..... "Pumphandle."
Leila Conner ..... "I'm going to bite your nose off."
Mr. Benson ..... "Come to the office immediately."
Jimmy Scott ..... "You silly girls."
Mrs. Bruner ..... "Well, why don't they tell me?"
Miss Throckmartin ..... "Now isn't that interesting?"
Mr. Emmons ..... "Bring pen and paper to class today."
Mrs. McCool ..... "Let's get back to the subject."
Jean Hunt ..... "Oh! brother."
Cecelia Ann Dunn ..... "Oh! corn!"

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class Play, "Second Fiddle," was presented May 16, 1947, and was a great success. The cast of characters was as follows:

Minnie Carson, a guest ..... Mary E. Fulton
Marion Baker, better known as Aunt Marion ..... Louise Carpenter
Joan Keeler, Marion's niece ..... Marilyn Parker
Wilbur, the butler ..... Bill Hutson
Janet Williams, a guest ..... Barbara Scott
Harold Werple, the man in the case ..... Richard Ingram
Dorothy Van Straaten, Harold's fiancee ..... Naomi J. Fulton
Mrs. Keeler, Joan's mother ..... Marian Parker
Hattie B. Crouch, a lawyer ..... Helen Holley

Harold Werple is facing the ordeal of his life—marriage to the society debutante, Dorothy Van Straaten. When he confesses how nervous he is to his old college friend, Janet Williams, Janet suggests a rehearsal of the ceremony, selecting Joan as the bride and Wilbur as the minister. This is a wonderful idea—until they discover that Wilbur is a notary public. That, in Florida, makes the marriage legal, it seems.

The girls decide that Harold must stay until they can think of a way out of the dilemma. When Harold refuses, he is kept a prisoner in the guest room. Matters grow increasingly difficult when Joan's mother and Harold's fiancee both appear upon the scene. To keep Mother in ignorance and Dorothy in quiescence is an inhuman task, which results in denunciations on all sides. In despair, Harold petitions for poison. Later, when his dinner cocktail tastes peculiar, he immediately jumps to the conclusion that Wilbur has obeyed his wishes, and becomes instantly ill.

Confronted with the thought of Harold's death, Joan breaks down and confesses that she loves him, but could not endure playing second fiddle. Harold's recovery is miraculous! He ceases to mourn his late fiancee; and to the confusion of the plotters in this startling situation, Joan and Harold elope on their real honeymoon, and Mother is never the wiser.

CALENDAR

The clock has ticked away many happy days for us — sleepy Mondays — clubs — honors — games — rehearsals — exams — This is our calendar.

SEPTEMBER

3—County Institute at Paris.

4—The beginning of a long grind. We feel sorry for us.

13—Heap big election. Class officers elected. Stuffed ballot boxes!

16-20—Initiation Week. Fifteen freshies, one sophomore, one junior, two seniors, and Mr. Heggerty get the works.

18—Library opened. The new rules will hamper our activities.

20—Miss Throckmartin counts her jars of canned vegetables. 315 quarts. Not bad work, if you ask us.

24—Two senior girls sit in front of assembly. By request. Mr. Heggerty's ears burned later, we feel sure.

25—School dismissed to pick tomatoes at Mr. Samford's farm. The prize-winning team was Maxine Davis and Sylvia Dugan. 104 crates.

26—Backaches — headaches — sunburns. F.F.A. Boys (survivors) pick more tomatoes.

27—Junior Magazine Sales start with a bang. Leaders are Wilma Vaught and Eugene Giordano.

30—All day testing for juniors. More headaches. Wilma carries the army mule.

OCTOBER

1—Jim Scott carries army mule — Junior play practice — Cast thrown into confusion by arrival of Wilma's jeep — Minds on lines not kept.

9—Magazine sales end — Joan Eveland the winner — $179 — Wins a wrist watch.

11—Teachers are wonderful, aren't they? Especially when they go to Charleston for an I.E.A. meeting.

16—Principals' meeting at Scottland. Freshman girls, assisted by Miss Throckmartin and Maxine Davis, serve the dinner.

25—F.H.A. and F.F.A. initiations.

31—Halloween — No vacation, in spite of a desperate need of one.

NOVEMBER

1—Junior Class presents "Charley's Aunt." A howling success.

8—Armistice Day program.

11—Armistice holiday.

15—We are inspected by Mr. Price, the high school visitor.

20—Chicken dinner for Junior Play Cast at Mrs. McCool's house.

28-29—Thanksgiving vacation.

DECEMBER

6—Sadie Hawkins party.

18—All-school party. We had a swell time.

22—Christmas program with Eugene as master of ceremonies. Santa Claus arrives, a bit late, with presents for all. Vacation.

JANUARY

6—Back to school. New frocks, new sweaters, new jewelry, new twosomes.

7—Hot Lunch Program starts. Chicken and noodles and everything.

16-17—Time for mutiny, revolts, and riots. Semester exams. Some are exempted—the lucky guys. I took 'em all—for the experience.

31—Big Carnival. Variety show, Happy Hollow School Days, Bingo, Chicken Dinner, Melodrama, and Picture Gallery.

SCOTCH NEWS STAFF — FIRST SEMESTER

Seated—Naomi June Fulton and Mary E. Fulton.

Standing, left to right—Florence Cook, Richard Ingram, Louise Carpenter, Helen Holley, Beuford Travis, Dean Bowman.

FEBRUARY

2—Groundhog Day. Jim reports that he saw his shadow. No vacation allowed in honor of the event.

12—Lincoln's birthday. A holiday.

14—St. Valentine's Day. It seems as if some of the teachers didn't like some of their valentines, but we thought they were very nice and fitting. No vacation.

20—Speech elimination for district contest. For the last month every room, every cubby-hole has been the scene of speech practice. It's Rebecca, or Willie Baxter, or Eileen, or Bottom or George Washington Slept Here, everywhere I turn. And Arsenic and Old Lace every afternoon. No privacy at all.

21—Movie projector is purchased by the school.

22—D. A. R. Chapter at Paris entertains Barbara Scott, representative from S. C. H. S.

28—County Institute at Paris — Norma Jean Samford's dress wins first place in the county. It's a very pretty pink and gray chambray dress, with cute ruffles here and there.

MARCH

1—District Speech Contest at Charleston. Wilma Vaught wins a blue ribbon in oration, and Eugene Giordano wins a red ribbon in verse reading.

15—Sectional Speech Contest at Champaign. The Ides of March were not favorable to Wilma and Eugene. They plan to win next year.

20-21—State Basketball Tourney. No school.

22—District Latin Contest. Ruth Alice Scott places third in the B schools.

25—Father and Son Banquet is held. Mr. Emmons shows two interesting motion pictures.

26—Board of Education is entertained at a dinner prepared by the freshman girls. Loretta Ulrey is manager.

28—Music Festival.

29—Music Contest at Charleston.

APRIL

1—An important day. Teachers just don't understand us .

2—Norma Jean wins first place in the state in the dress contest. Her dress will be sent to Washington to be entered in the national contest.

4—Holiday, Good Friday.

9—F.F.A. and F.H.A. party.

11—County Music and Speech Contest at Brocton. Mary, Wilma, and Gleethal win first place in speech.

12—School election.

15—Basketball banquet.

18—Mother and Daughter Banquet.

21—Isn't this spring fever terrible? What is the use of going to school?

MAY

16—Senior Class Play, "Second Fiddle." A good play, extra good.

23—Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. Such glamorous senoritas and such handsome caballeros!!

29-30—Suffering seems to be our lot. Where do the teachers get such questions?

JUNE

1—Dignity reigns supreme — on Baccalaureate.

4—Smiles and tears! Commencement! And it's over for the seniors — or perhaps it's just commencing. Who knows?

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

President ..... Naomi June Fulton
Vice President ..... Helen Holley
Secretary ..... Marian Parker
Treasurer ..... Louise Carpenter

The distinguishing colors of the Future Homemakers of America are red and white. The motto, "Toward New Horizons," expresses the purpose of the organization —learning to live better today in order that our lives and those of our families may be better tomorrow.

The outstanding event of this year was the Mother and Daughter Banquet, which was held in April in the Homemaking Room.

Our group is now affiliated with the state chapter of Future Homemakers of America; it is supervised by Miss Throckmartin, Home Economics instructor.

The members are: Naomi Fulton, Helen Holley, Iris Craig, Ruth A. Scott, Barbara Scott, Mary E. Fulton, June Romoser, Leila Conner, Norma Samford, Marilyn Parker, Sylvia Dugan, Arlene Samford, Margaret Dugan, Maxine Davis, Dormilou Camerer, Julia Wyatt, Patty Yonce, Emmalee Newcomb, Joan Listner, Gleethal Scott, Dorothy Groves, Carrie Howe, Louise Carpenter, Marian Parker, Mary Dillon, Carol Conner, Delores Hunt, Mary Huffaker, Marilyn Freeman, Joan Eveland, Loretta Ulrey. The sponsor is Miss Throckmartin.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

President ..... Dick Ingram
Vice President ..... Hobart Dixon
Secretary ..... Dale Romoser
Treasurer ..... Harold Porter
Sentinel ..... Bill Craven
Reporter ..... Beuford Travis
Adviser ..... Mr. Emmons

The Future Farmers of America was established in our high school eleven years ago. It has been the policy to continue the work of the organization through the Agricultural department in our school.

To be a member of this organization the boy must have at least one year of Vocational Agriculture, and he must have satisfactory and acceptable plans for a program of supervised farming.

He can be a member until he is twenty-one years of age. After he becomes twenty-five years of age he must become an honorary member if he wishes to retain his membership in the organization.

October 25, 1946, there were four new green hands initiated into the organization. They were Archie Samford, Donald Ingram, Norman Huffaker and Fred Davis.

The outstanding event of this year was the Father and Son Banquet, which was held March 25, in the Agriculture Room.

The members are:

Front Row: Ray Ingram, Eugene Giordano, Charles Eslinger, Richard Ingram, Dale Romoser, Harold Porter, Beuford Travis, Mr. Emmons.

CARNIVAL KING, QUEEN, AND THEIR ATTENDANTS

JUNIOR GIRL WINS HONORS

Norma Jean Samford, a junior, represented us at the Fall Festival which was held at Paris. She placed second in this contest.

Norma entered the County D.A.R. dress contest winning, winning first. This made her eligible for the state contest, which was held at Chicago. She won first in this contest and her dress will be sent to the national contest in May.

FOR OUR CLASS OF 1947

What an awkward bunch of freshmen entered the portals of S.C.H.S. four short years ago! Some of us were afraid of our own shadows. Our sponsor was Alice Wieland, and Clyde Corn was our principal. Our class president was Barbara Scott, our vice-president was Eugene York and our secretary-treasurer was Robert Durham. There were fifteen freshmen. In our sophomore year William Johnson and Eugene York quit school. Helen Holley was transferred from Chrisman. Our officers were Mary E. Fulton, Bill Hutson, and Helen Holley. Marjorie Wells was our sponsor and Gordon Cook was our principal. As jolly juniors we presented the play, "Mama's Baby Boy." That year, under Miss Darrough's sponsorship, we gave a banquet and prom for the seniors. We went over the top in our magazine sales, and we published the "Scotch News" the second semester. Seems as if we are patting ourselves on the back, but we really did accomplish things that year. Louise Carpenter entered school from St. Bernice and Robert Durham went to the army. Our officers were Joan Listner, Marilyn Parker, Marian Parker, and Helen Holley. Mr. Benson was our principal and our chemistry teacher.

What a contrast we seniors of today make to that awkward bunch of four years ago. Most of us are not afraid of our shadows now. Our last year at S.C.H.S. has been a very creditable one under the supervision of Mr. Benson and Mrs. McCool. Naomi June Fulton was carnival queen, and Richard Ingram was selected the king. Our last dramatic production was "Second Fiddle." Barbara Scott was chosen the D.A.R. representative. Mary E. Fulton placed third in the serious reading contest at Charleston and first in the county contest. We presented a Variety Show at the Carnival, which included a fashion show and a chapeau contest. Jones of Paris furnished our costumes, but we fashioned our own chapeaux (hats to you). Marian Parker won the prize in the hat show. Allen Durham joined the army and Clarence Bowman quit school; Roscoe Howe and Carrie Howe entered from St. Bernice, but both returned to St. Bernice during the year. Our officers were Marilyn Parker, Roscoe Howe, Richard Ingram, and Marian Parker. Perhaps we should mention the fact that we have edited the Memoriae. And so with tears and smiles we shall soon be leaving behind us the doors of S.C.H.S.

TIME TICKS ON!

Last Row: Jim Scott, Bill Hunt, Neil Scott, Dale Romoser, Harold Porter, Floyd Hess, Dick Haws, Don Low.

The Pep Club was organized November 19, 1946, and the following officers were elected:

President	Barbara Scott
1st Vice-President	Naomi June Fulton
2nd Vice-President	Marian Parker
Secretary	Gleethal Scott
Treasurer	Patty Lee Yonce

Anyone in the high school could become a member by paying his dues of $.50. The purpose of the club was to boost the basketball boys, feed them after the home games, and then have a social hour. In order to raise money to support the club the members sold cokes, pop corn, and potato chips at the basketball games. We all enjoyed it very much.

1946-47 LETTERMEN

Dale Romoser—Weight 152, height 5 feet 8 inches. He is a junior and is a very good ball player. He was a great help to the team this year.

Neil Scott—Weight 122, height 5 feet 6½ inches. Neil is fast and can get in under the baskets for shots. He is a junior .

James Scott—Weight 130, height 5 feet 4½ inches. Jim won the free throw trophy with a .667 per cent. He is also a junior.

Jack Eslinger—Weight 134, height 5 feet 8 inches. Jack has the ability to keep cool under the most trying conditions. He is a sophomore and a very good shot.

Roscoe Howe—Weight 134, height 5 feet 10 inches. He helped out the team because of his ability to get the rebounds. He is a senior.

Richard Haws—Weight 116, height 5 feet 6 inches. Dick is a junior and has improved greatly from last year.

Harold Porter—Weight 132, height 5 feet 5½ inches. He is a junior. He is fast and helped the team very much.

Charles Ingram—Weight 135, height 5 feet 5½ inches. Buck was a good guard and a good rebounder. He is a junior.

Bill Craven—Weight 110, height 5 feet 4 inches. Bill was fast and a good shot. He was a great help and we were very sorry to lose him. Since Bill moved to Fisher, Illinois, and was not here at the time the Annual pictures were taken, his picture does not appear.

Richard Ingram—Weight 136, height 5 feet 8 inches. Dick is a senior. He helped on the rebounds. He was elected honorary captain for this season.

Thomas Heggerty—He is our basketball coach. He is liked by everyone and has done much to further the playing ability of our boys.

JOKES AND POKES

Dick Haws: "Say, that girl you were out with the other night is a Quaker"
Harold: "No wonder she knew her oats."

* * * * * *

Mrs. Scott: "And besides I think he is a model young man."
Ruth Alice: "Yeah, an 1890 model."

* * * * * *

Helen: "I'm a girl of few words."
Floyd: "Well, you sure keep those mighty busy."

* * * * * *

Don Low: "Haven't I met you some place before?"
City Girl: "Did you go to the Town Barn Dance?"
Don Low: "Oh yes, of course."
City Girl: "Liar, there isn't any Town Barn Dance."

* * * * * *

Charles Ingram: "Why did you hit Mr. Benson with the baseball?"
Mrs. Benson: "Because I couldn't find the bat."

* * * * * *

Eugene: "You know, Beuford, I was held up in the woods with a flat tire and my gears were stripped, and I had two burned-out bearings."
Beuford: "That sure was bad, but it could have been worse."
Eugene: "How could it have been any worse?"
Beuford: "It could have been me."

* * * * * *

Mr. Heggerty: "Gosh, my razor won't cut anything today."
Mrs. Heggerty: "My goodness, Tom, since when is your beard tougher than linoleum?"

* * * * * *

Roscoe: "Why did you leave your girl's house so early?"
Dick I.: "We were sitting on the sofa and she turned out the light. Guess I can take a hint."

* * * * * *

Mr. Hunt: "Be careful with that money, son. Remember a fool and his money are soon parted."
Bill: "I know, Dad, but I want to thank you for parting with it just the same."

* * * * * *

Mrs. Scott: "Jimmy, why did you strike Virginia?"
Jimmy: "Well, we were playing Adam and Eve, and instead of tempting me with the apple, she ate it herself."

* * * * * *

Marian: "I've decided that I won't be married until I'm 25."
Marilyn: "And I've decided not to be 25 until I'm married."

* * * * * *

Papa Kangaroo: "Ermentrude, where's the baby?"
Mama Kangaroo: "Ohhh, I've had my pocket picked."

* * * * * *

Patty and Wilma were going horseback riding one day.
Wilma: "Getting your saddle on backwards, aren't you?"
Patty: "That's all you know about it, smarty. You don't know which way I'm going."

* * * * * *

Bill Hutson: "I'm just a poor little boy trying to get ahead."
Mary Elizabeth: "That's fine. You certainly need one."

JOKES AND POKES

Leo: (Outside the history class-room) "Let's cut this class and go to town."
Jack: "Nope, I can't afford to miss my nap."

* * * * *

Neil: "Waiter, there's a splinter in my cottage cheese."
Waiter: "Whadya want for a dime—the whole cottage?"

* * * * *

Emmalee: "I'd like a can of talcum powder, please."
Clerk: "Do you want it scented?"
Emmalee: "No, thanks. I'd rather carry it with me."

* * * * *

Mrs. McCool: "Now, Warren, tell me how you would punctuate this sentence: 'I saw a five dollar bill on the sidewalk.' "
"Warren: "I'd make a dash after it!"

* * * * *

Clerk: "May I show you something in a uniform?"
Naomi: "Yes, something about six feet tall, with curly hair!"

* * * * *

Barbara: "Will your parents be surprised when you graduate?"
Roscoe: "Oh no, they've been expecting it for several years now."

* * * * *

Mr. Benson: "Name three ways of sending messages quickly."
Jack E.: "Telephone, telegraph, and tell-a-woman."

* * * * *

Gerald!"
"Mumm—Wmpf."
"Gerald! Wake up!"
"Uh—Mpff—wassamtter?"
"Gerald, I'm certain I heard a mouse squeak!"
"Waddua want me t' do? Get up an' oil it?"

* * * * *

Dale: "What is a bigamist, Pop?"
Mr. Romoser: "A man who makes the same mistake twice."

* * * * *

Game Warden: "Don't you know rabbits are cut of season now?"
Mr. Emmons: "Yes, but I had to shoot this one. Just plain self-defense."

* * * * *

Director: "Have you ever had any stage experience?"
Vandivier: "Well, I had my leg in a cast once."

* * * * *

Miss Throckmartin: "Why are you late?"
Archie: "Class started before I got here."

* * * * *

Julia: "Great Scott!! I've forgotten who wrote 'Ivanhoe'."
Joan E.: "I'll tell you if you'll tell me who the dickens wrote the 'Tale of Two Cities'!"

* * * * *

Mr. Heggerty: "Give me an example of indirect taxation."
Dean: "The dog tax."
Mr. Heggerty: "How is that?"
Dean: "The dog does not have to pay it."

* * * * *

Mrs. Listner: "Leo, I wish you'd stop reaching for things at the table. Haven't you a tongue?"
Leo: "Yes, Ma, but my arm's longer."

Games Won 6 — Games Lost 6

CHEERLEADERS FOR 1946-1947

Lela Ann Huffaker, Lavonna Ann Cook, Virginia Mae Scott.

Not pictured are: Martha Lou Scott, Nancy Lou Bonwell, June Ingram.

The Grade School basketball team played a twelve game schedule during the year. The team won six games and lost six games. The team was very much inexperienced to begin the season. Three of the boys who played on the first five had never played a game of basketball on a gymnasium floor. However, the team made a credible showing by winning fifty per cent of its games.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES FOR 1946-1947

During the past year, the Grade School pupils have had several gatherings. A Halloween party was enjoyed by all. Next on the list was Christmas. The pupils went down to the gymnasium and enjoyed the program with the High School. After that, they returned to their rooms and enjoyed the exchanging of gifts. A treat from their teachers was very much appreciated by all. From all reports, we feel sure that the Valentine Party was a big success. The lovely Valentine Box added a great deal to this. Easter was the next holiday on the list. The Easter Party proved just as successful as the rest.
